

SCAREDY CAT

Nada Nashita

“HELP ME!” a piercing sound could be heard two miles away from the Sumatran Rainforest. That loud roar came from none other than Suti, the Sumatran tiger. Her mom rushed to her to find out why she had roared so loudly, but all she saw was a small tarantula. Suti’s mom knew this tarantula very well. His name was Talu. Both Talu and Suti looked terrified.

The Ungrateful Peacock

Faith Mikayla

Once there lived an old lady who had the most beautiful peacock. This peacock was unlike any others. It had unique golden-colored feathers. The old lady loved it so much and worked hard to feed the peacock with the finest grains. However, the peacock disliked the old lady because she was not as beautiful as the peacock. The old lady had scratches and marks all over her body from working hard day and night.

The Escape

Aaron Xander

The heat was boiling.

They felt like they were dying.

They never felt so terrified.

Never felt that petrified.

The air was filled with smoke from deep in the forest where the people were burning the trees. The humans were clearing them for mines, timbers and factories.
