

Deep in the beautiful ocean of Bunaken Island, Manado Indonesia, there lived families of different sharks.

There were blacktip reef sharks, whitetip sharks, bamboo sharks, grey reef sharks, hammerhead sharks, and many more.

Among all those sharks, there was one particular hammerhead shark that always wondered why he looked different than the other sharks.

